

Job Description: GSAS Resident Advisor

Job Title: GSAS Resident Advisor

Reports to: Ashley Skipwith, GSAS Director of Residential Life

Description: Resident Advisors (RAs) are graduate students who are employed by the GSAS Office of Residential Life to fulfill various responsibilities in the GSAS residence halls. There are sixteen RAs, one of whom resides on each floor of the residence halls (Child, Richards, Conant, and Perkins).

Job Responsibilities:

- Act as liaisons with the GSAS Offices of Residential Life, Student Services and Student Affairs
- Help residents, particularly new residents, adjust to their environment at Harvard and in the residence halls; be available for urgent and non-urgent matters
- Handle and report emergency situations, such as illness, accidents within the premises of the residence halls, facilities problems, etc.
- Be visible and available to students both in the residence halls and at Dudley House
- Inform residents of housing policies, rules, and regulations; monitor compliance
- Receive information from residents and report needed repairs and facilities problems; monitor progress
- Staff two distribution of keys shifts during move-in weekend (August 24-26) and at other times as necessary
- Aid residents who are locked out of their rooms
- Be available to residents on Friday and/or Saturday night several nights each term
- Attend monthly meetings and additional ones as necessary that are organized by GSAS Residential Life. RA meetings are usually held on the first Wednesday of the month from 8:00-10:00am. A second meeting is held occasionally. Class schedules and other commitments need to be arranged accordingly.
- Plan, organize, and hold social events every two – three weeks for the floor for which they are responsible
- Participate in events organized by GSAS Residential Life and Student Services, fellow RAs, Graduate Dormitory Council, Graduate Student Council, and Dudley Fellows
- Organize and participate in activities either as an RA Liaison, e.g., with the Graduate Dormitory Council or as an RA Representative - e.g., Wellness
- Pick up information and materials at the Office of Residential Life every Friday afternoon and post or distribute them
- Submit paperwork, online forms, and weekly reports on time
